New sizes of Fertilome Weed Free Zone

When I read ads in the newspaper or hear ads on the radio or maybe see ads on the television, I am skeptical.

My guess is you are skeptical also. We are so bombarded with advertising messages all day long where ever we turn. Who to believe? My thought is just tell me the truth. Is your product actually better and why?

Let me tell you the why and the truth on one of our products at the Green Haus. When Fertilome Weed Free Zone first became available the salesman told me it would work in cold weather. I was a skeptic. I did not believe him and couldn't wait to get a bottle in my hands to prove him wrong in my own little research test.

My first opportunity was in January several years ago. The weather was about 40 degrees that day and that night was about 25 degrees. Cold enough that I knew my old standby summer weed killer would not have worked. I sprayed the plants with Fertilome Weed Free Zone and some Hi-Yield Spreader Sticker as my surfactant. A couple days later the weeds were dying. A couple weeks later they all were dead. I was impressed.

My customers have been impressed also because we have sold lots of Fertilome Weed Free Zone over the years. We now carry Fertilome Weed Free Zone in different size bottles. Quarts, pints, 8 ounce, and Ready-to-use bottles are all available. Lots of our customers have been buying multiple bottles so we thought we could save you some money by having it available in bigger sizes.

Have you tried Fertilome Weed Free Zone? I know you are skeptical, so take the challenge and try some! We grow our own and that's the difference.
