Schools All Time Win-Loss Records Through 2008

This is not an exact science but we know we are close. If your school is not here get your football coach or athletic director to send it in. My list got started years ago from a National list out of Texas and from my own research. From there I have had several football coaches and athletic directors send in their findings. I found the Smith Center total win-loss record on their school website this year but my figures don't agree with some of the other schools records the Smith Center site has. But that is why we say we are close.

There are some question marks in my mind such as the Hutchinson Salt Hawks record of 527-365-0. Kind of hard to believe the Salt Hawks have never had a tie game when all the other schools have multiple ties from the old days when we did not have overtime. So their overall record makes me wonder about it.

We have some teams that might reach the 500 win column this year including; Scott City and Andale. Salina Sacred Heart is also in reach of 300 wins. When I personally researched the Scott City overall record about 15 years ago it was real work doing all that research. School yearbooks and old newspaper records from Scott City and Garden City, so if you think you will just look up your teams record in a couple of hours forget it. It took weeks of research a little at a time.

So enjoy and send me your comments.
